

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

WOODHEAD, Cawthra, F.J.L., Journalist, Managing Editor, "Natal Mercury"; b. 28th April, 1859, at Brighouse, Yorkshire, England; s. of John Woodhead; m., 17th Oct., 1884, M. H. Mackay; 6 children. Educ. Local Schools, Brighouse. Came to Colony 1881. Recreation: Lawn tennis. Add., 119, St. George's St., Durban. Mr. Cawthra Woodhead, F.J.L., Managing Editor of the "Natal Mercury," one of the oldest and most important South African dailies, has been connected with that journal for 25 years. Receiving a thoroughly practical training in Yorkshire, he came as reporter "Mercury" in 1881, and with a short intermission about eight months on the staff of the "Natal W" he has been connected with the "Mercury" ever since. Recognised by his contemporaries in the 'eighties as the best shorthand writer in the Colony, he was exceedingly successful in the gallery of the Natal Parliament, essentially a hard worker, and showing facility in writing of notes and descriptive matter, he was in advance in his profession, and, on the retirement of Mr. E. P. Mathers, was appointed sub-editor "Natal Mercury," under that able and brilliant journalist, Sir John Robinson, K.C.M.G. When in 1898 John became the first Prime Minister of Natal Responsible Government, Mr. Woodhead had upon him more responsible duties, being appointed Managing Editor a position he still occupies, with Ramsay Collins as Editor-in-Chief. He is now, in continuous service, the oldest active journalist in Natal, although only 47 years of age. Has written and compiled many special numbers of his paper, and first jubilee of the late Queen Victoria wrote a jubilee number. He only claims to be a conscientious working journalist, metaphorically keeping his hand to the plough, and is recognised as keen in the interests of his journal, and ever solicitous in maintaining the journalistic traditions. Many South African papers have served under him, and have borne testimony to his wise supervision and sympathetic nature, fond of social life, and among other institutions the Yorkshire and Lancashire Association found in practical Vice-President, and the Order of the Boy Scouts of England has his warm support. He can speak and write, as he proved at the general election in Durban in 1900, when he was on a visit to the O.D.C. and has frequently spoken at meetings and in connection with Durban institutions. He is a member of Aliwal Street Congregational Church has taken a prominent part in its large development in recent years, particularly in connection with extensive building operations. He is a member of the Institute of Journalists, which in 1892 recognised him as a Fellow. On completion of 25 years' service with "Mercury," he was presented with a gold watch chain by the proprietors and staff, in recognition of his services.
