JL - E - 27

HEADREST: Wooden, of similar type to JL-E-26 in that the body contains a receptacle. It is carved in the form of an African buffalo, with realistic head and sex; the four legs and tails are tapering cones; the body is covered with parallel zig-zag lines in low relief, the pattern continuing over the rectangular lid of the body cavity. The lid is held in place by slender twigs (?) passing through shallow pierced lugs. The body is darkened with pokerwork.
