ATB 125

One of the first that Shaka attended to..
Elders have cited the Ntshalini, the Ndwandwes, Sibiyas as relations
At the time of conquest Makedama was the chief of the clan
The table given caused much difficulty but is the result of 'endless' enquiries in 1896.] "Nandi.. is described as the daughter, now of Mbengi, now of Mgabi, then again of Bebe" ~~6~~ - The same confusion exists for Makedama

127. Songweni had not ruled because of a deformity but his son succeeded on his uncle's death. He married before Mpande had given permission and fled to Natal where he fell in with Dunn and later returned with to Zululand. His son, Sikonyana or e seems to have succeeded him
