

it brass spout in the shape of an animal's
 te. Purchased. [Nos. 442—446.] ll annular sun-dial, with hinged indicator er 2"-6. Mildenhall, Suffolk. Purchased.
 of large stay-busks, of whalebone, with ornamental panels and inscription. The work man (early nineteenth century). The Misses box, with sliding lid, in the form of a bed-(bone), containing a set of dominoes (bone).

Late xviii century work. Found in a walled up recess of an old cottage in Mildenhall, Suffolk. The Cambridge* Antiquarian Society.

450. A pipe carved in slaty soap-stone: the bowl, which is urn-shaped, rests on the seat of a four-legged chair. South America (? recent). The Cambridge Antiquarian Society.*

451. A wooden ladle, with short, curved and ornamental handle. [? Moorish-Spanish.] Miss M. C. Froude.

II. ETHNOLOGY.

EUROPE.

objects from Lapland, viz.:

knife with handle made of alternate rings the leather-bound sheath, of two pieces of with incised figures of reindeer drawing wooden knife, used for scraping frozen the runners of the sledges; the leather-of the flat brow-tyne of a reindeer's executed incised drawings of three rein-

 and. The Curator.* [Nos. 452, 453.]

ASIA.

short spears with large, iron, leaf-shaped blades. Naga Country, Assam. Mrs Har-

AFRICA.

objects from Somaliland, viz.:

essel, hunter, amphora-like in form, of over which forms a drinking cup. The of stout sticks, by which it is slung to (in crate) 34", diameter 20". Manu-the Ogardain District; and Mohammedan rosary-necklaces, made of beads and seeds. Somaliland, 1895.
 os. 456—463.]

objects from Angoni- and Nyasaland, viz.:

(iron blade) in a bamboo haft;
 knife, for shaving the head, and pieces of
 similar purpose;
 combs decorated with coloured grass;
bebe, a tassel-like covering, of strips of shaped ornament, covered with small beads, worn by men, attached to the njobe;

 shield cut out of buffalo-hide;
 a cylinder of European beads, worn as a cloak-cloth;

shell of a gourd, sparsely decorated with
 'chiko,' a gourd, with a large opening with an incised pattern;
 a bag, banded red and brown;

481. A musical instrument, sansi, the notes produced by springy plates of iron;

482. A knife, chipula, with ground, one-edged blade and hippopotamus ivory handle (Yaos);

483. A small toy bow, and arrows made of the stems of grass (Yaos);

484. A cylindrical basket with square base;

485. A porridge-ladle of wood, decorated with carved and charred pattern; and 486, 487. Two small earthenware vessels: one decorated with a band of incised work and polished with graphite.

 Nyasaland, 1895; and

488. Luzi-bark, used for tying, in the Shire region.
Purchased. [Nos. 464—486.]

489. A bow, strung with twisted hide, and five arrows with barbed iron heads of divers patterns. Mashonaland, 1884. Colonel H. W. Feilden.

Twenty-five objects from Zululand, viz.:

490—497. Eight assegais, seven for throwing, and one (short) for stabbing;

498—500. Three 'knobkerries,' of divers patterns, one inlaid in brass, with figures of two animals and three stars;

501. A powder horn with a plaited thong loop;

502. A walking staff with carved end;

503. A carved wooden head-rest;

504—507. Four carved porridge-spoons; and

508. One pipe-bowl (for tobacco), carved with five loops out of soap-stone. Zululand, 1884. Collected by the donor, Colonel H. W. Feilden. [Nos. 490—508.]

509. A beer-strainer of plaited grass; and

510. Grass ropes for tying the thatch of huts. Ekukan-yeni. Natal. The Curator.* [Nos. 509, 510.]

AMERICA.

511, 512. Two bows made of palm-wood. Bolivia; and

513—515. Three coloured cloths (Lijila) with ornamental bands, woven on hand looms; one of purely native manufacture, the others of European wools. Used by women to carry their infants on their backs. Chile. Madame Vergara de Errázuriz. [Nos. 511—515.]

AUSTRALIA.

516, 517. Two remarkable leaf-shaped spear-heads, with finely serrated edges, most skilfully chipped out of green