Dear Mr. Mqhayi,

Yesterday I sent you a copy of ImiBengo. That ends the ~~kw~~ piece of work I undertook six years ago; and I am deeply grateful that I have been allowed to complete it, for four years ago I wondered if I should be able to go on with it.

To celebrate the great occasion, I send you a Christmas gift herewith, which I am sure you will find useful. I thank you very sincerely for all the help you gave me, and for the readiness of your assistance. Between us, we ~~have~~ ^{have} given the Xhosa-speaking ^{youth} ~~you~~ a collection of literature they need not be ashamed of.

I wish to send a copy of the book to the ^{Paramount} Chiefs of the Gcaleka, the Ngqika and the Ndlambe branches of the Xhosa. Please send me the addresses of the first and the third, and the Names I should write in the books. For the second, I imagine "Archie Velile Sandile" would serve, and "Cwaru, Middledrift" would find him.

Wishing you and yours a Happy Christmas, and a prosperous New Year,

Yours sincerely,
