The six above murdered "Gqumkele" for accusations of barrenness. The six came to eNhlambeni and asked for Gqumukile. A girl called her from the fields where she was working. All were carrying knives and stones except Zibolile, who carried a stick.

An unnamed "indvuna" gave evidence in court. Finding Gqumukile dead, he asked the widows, "Why have you killed her?" They answered: "She said we would never bear children."

They were in custody by 3 February 1904. The widows were represented by P. S. Hoyle in a special court presided over by J. F. Rubie, F. Enraght-Moony & B. Nicholson.

The writer identifies:

1. Mtsise Dlodlu as Mnt. Ladluli's mother

NOTES

LaNhlabatsi was the wife of Bhunu, and was placed in the hut of LaMatsebula.
"Mkhulunyelwa Vilakati was almost executed by Gwamile for adultery with LaMavimbela."
Gwamile later regretted her rashness, as she did for LaMndzebele.

LaMnisi and Lingiwe

In 1920 or 1921, Lomasontfo LaMhlakalane Mnisi became "liphovela" of Sobhuza. Mhlakalane was the son of Mvundlela. The Mnisi homestead was on today's farm of Dr. Stephens. When Lomasontfo was pregnant, she delivered "elugaganeni", and the child went through all the necessary rituals. Eventually Sobhuza did not accept the child as his, and he named her "Lingiwe". Her birth certificate at St. Mary's Mission, Lobamba, made in the late 1920s, states: "Princess Lingiwe, born 1921". She died in 1999, January 19.

David "Mchoza" Muir later told Lingiwe that her surname was Mordaunt. At some stage she received the names Jane Frances.

Jackson Zeeman built David Muir's store at eZulwini (or was first owner)

Lingiwe married Jackson Nelson Zeeman (1910-1971, January 20), and bore:

Zintombi LaZabeni Mkhonta of Lamgabhi, whose mother was also LaMnisi of eZulwini, bore Elizabeth and Elsie to Jackson Zeeman.

MORDAUNT, Archibald Quinton "Mhliyizela".

Born about 1869, arrived in Swd in 1891. Had a store at Zombodze by 1897. In 1898, as adviser to King Bhunu, he was sent to the British consul to advise of Mbhabha's death. Lived in Bremersdorp after Anglo-Boer War.

MORDAUNT, Robert Ernest.

Had a store at eZulwini by 1897, had another at eMbekelweni by 1905.

Idah Kunene

Sobhuza met Idah while she was teaching at Zombodze in the 1920s. She became pregnant. Her parents wanted to sue Sobhuza for damages. (She had come with her parents or left them in Johannesburg?). Sobhuza's lawyer Pixley Seme advised Sobhuza not to respond.

Idah went to Johannesburg and gave birth to a child, Myingili. She married a Sotho man (Magagula ?) and had a child, Mthetheleli, by him. The man died and Idah wore mourning clothes. Sobhuza's brother Prince Makhosikhosi was working in Johannesburg and saw the child. He informed Sobhuza of the similarity and Sobhuza told his brother to bring Idah and the child back to Swaziland. He could not marry Idah as she had once worn mourning clothes.

Idah had four more children by another brother of Sobhuza, Prince Mshengu.

(see Khumbulani Ngwenya of Mangwaneni for identity of "Sotho man")

Queen Lomphuya LaMvangazi Hlophe left the royal family after having her first child, Myingwa, in 1920. She went on to bear:

1. Cornelius
2. Mgegile (girl, died young)
3. Solina, married Ngcakamatje Zwane (NaboQuinton) (d. 1988)
4. Gugile (d. 1964)

Queen Sizakele LaLontima Ngubeni bore an additional child after Dzinekile, also named Cornelius.

NOTES

Emakhosikati only must transport liguma to establish lusasa.

When Lomawa lived at Lusasa, Nukwase lived at eNsuka

Nukwase lived with "wives" who had children before Sobhuza's installation in 1921; then they were properly married.

First wives of Lozitha married before Lozitha was built (1925 / 26 ?).

In 1922, LaHlatjwako & LaMngomezulu, as emaphovela, accompanied Sobhuza as far as the Transvaal (on his trip to London).

Around 1930, Tsengeni Magagula (eNsuka) was sent to eSidwwashini North and died (malaria / murdered ?)

Lomabhunu Shongwe carried sidziya setingcumu when Zihlathi died

emaphovela's mourning costume for Sobhuza was incomplete
 (bazilela iNkhosi "kancane", nakushona umngeni bazila ngalokuphelele)

LaNguduza Matsebula (liphovela) watjelwa kutsi aye ekhaya, emva kwekushona kwaSobhuza, kepha wasala ebukhosini. Wagcina wanatsa lipilisi, wafa.

LaMatsebula lomncane should go to libhadze near eMhlangeni, (Bhunya) with other wives of her house. Their children should not attend Incwala.

Indzaba ya-Idah LaLomkhehlane Kunene waseMadadeni / Newcastle, kwaZulu-Natal
King Sobhuza II met Idah while she was teaching at Zombodze in the 1920s. She became pregnant. Her parents wanted to charge Sobhuza for damages. (She had come with her parents or left them in Johannesburg ?).

Sobhuza's lawyer Pixley Seme advised Sobhuza not to respond. Idah went to Johannesburg and gave birth to a child, Myingili. She married a Sotho man and had a child, Mthetheleli, by him. The man died and Idah wore mourning gowns for him.

Sobhuza's brother Prince Makhosikhosi was working in Johannesburg and saw the child. He informed Sobhuza of the physical similarity and the king told his brother to bring Idah and the child back to Swaziland. Myingili was accepted as a child of the King.

Swazi custom prevented Sobhuza from marrying Idah as she had once worn mourning clothes.

Idah had four more children by Prince Mshengu. She died in 1979 / 80.
