 Ladies and gentlemen, as we begin the annals of the New Year, I would like to seize this opportunity to extend to all of my fellow Countrymen my deep thanks and profound appreciation for your commendable spirit you played in the various important national achievements you have made in the past years. It is with a deep sense of national pride and profound gratification to state that during 1977, the Swazi Nation continued to cherish long traditional heritage of national solidarity, political stability and national harmony under such congenial climate, the Swazi Nation was able to concentrate its undivided attention and national resources, on the nation's efforts of bringing about rapid socio-economic advancement and National prosperity. One of the most outstanding economic achievements, made by the Swazi Nation in 1977, was the signing ceremony, which marked the climax of many years of arduous negotiations pertaining to the establishment of the nation's Third Sugar Mill. The Third Sugar Mill is a project of great economic importance to the Swazi nation, because it will not only open up many employment opportunities for my Swazi brothers and sisters, but will also made a tremendous contribution to the Country's over all economy. I would, therefore, like to avail myself of this opportunity to extend, on behalf of the entire Swazi Nation, a word of special gratitude to all those of my fellow countrymen and friends who, through their dedicated and patriotic service have made it possible for us to accomplish this economic project of great national importance. The very fact that an economic project of this magnitude is being successfully established in Swaziland clearly underlines the unflinching confidence of investors in the stability oh, sustainability, I am sorry, of our country as a safe and viable field for foreign investment. It is thus imperative upon every Swazi citizen to ensure that this good reputation of our country is not tarnished. We all have a national duty, not only to ourselves, but also to future Swazi generations, to ensure the success of this important national project.

The future success of the Third Sugar Mill will only only be achieved through hard work, and unflinching co-operation amongst all the people who will be working at this project. I have no doubt that every worker at this project, will be rewarded in accordance with his job productivity. It is in this context, therefore, that I would like to be among the first Swazis to say how grateful we all are, to the almighty, for the generous blessings and divine guidance we received during 1977. I have no doubt, therefore, that you are all with me in my ardent prayer that the Swazi nation should continue to be endowed with similar blessings and divine guidance in 1978, and in many more years to come. The year, 1978, will be of special significance to the Swazi people, because it will mark the 10th/tenth birthday of the Swazi Nation. It will be the tenth year since the Swazi people regained their National Independence, and took the rightful place as a sovereign state amongst the free Nations of the World. I have no doubt, therefore that as a nation that is going to be 10 years old this year, the Swazi people will look back at the achievements were made in these past ten years of our nationhood, with the deep sense of national pride and satisfaction. I am more than convinced that we have been able to reach the present stage of our National development, because of the able and foresighted leadership we have received from the future success of the third year will only be achieved through hard work and unflinching co-operation amongst all the people who will be working on this project. I have no doubt that every worker at the project will be rewarded in accordance with his job productivity. It is in this context therefore that I would like to be amongst the first Swazis to say how grateful we all are to the Almighty for the generous blessings and divine guidance we received during 1978. I have no doubt, therefore that you are all with me in my ardent prayer that the Swazi Nation should continue to bend down with similar blessings and divine guidance in 1979 and to maintain peace to come. The year 1978 will be of

His Majesty, King Sobhuza the Second, whose inspiring personality served as an illustrious symbol of unity for the Swazi people and as a burning torch for this country's continued prosperity. It goes without saying that no Nation can ever be able to forge ahead with its development programmes in conditions marked by National strifes and political chaos. It is with this realization in mind that we hail His Majesty for having engendered in this Country, a conducive climate of peace, political stability and harmonious co-existence amongst the various sections of the country's population. The unswerving support that His Majesty's Government has received during the past year, from the Country's business community the public service, and other organizations and individual residence, is characteristic of the spirit of complete national solidarity that prevails in this country. It is only under such conditions of social tranquility and national co-operation that any nation can expect to achieve its development goals. It is in this light, therefore, that I feel particularly confident that the great strides we made in 1977 in our national development programmes auger well for the ultimate fulfilment of the economic aspirations of the Swazi people. However, I am more convinced than ever before, than ever before, that we will succeed in accomplishing our national goals only if we continue to be proud of our cultural heritage and to remain a God-fearing nation. In this regard, I would further like to stress the heavy national responsibility that devolves upon every Swazi parent, in connection with the duty of inculcating strict discipline, in the mind of every Swazi child. We should always remember that our children are future leaders of this kingdom, and thus we, as parents, have a duty to mold a future Swazi Nation. By and large, 1977 has been a year of relative prosperity for the country's many socio-economic development programmes. However, there is no room for complacency. Big national challenges still lie ahead, and I strongly appeal to you all to work even harder in 1978, in order to accomplish the economic aspirations of our

the public service and other organizations and individual resources, is characteristic of the spirit of complete national solidarity that prevails in this country. It is only under such conditions of social tranquillity and national co-operation that any nation can expect to achieve its developmental goals. It is in this light, therefore, that I feel particularly confident that the great strides we have made in NFE in our national development programmes under well for the ultimate fulfilment of the economic aspirations of the Swazi people. I am more convinced that we before this year before that we will succeed in accomplishing our national goals only if we continue to be proud of our cultural heritage and to nation, within the shortest possible time. Let us make it the personal goal of everyone of us to make his full contribution towards the national effort of up lifting the living standards of our people. We can only achieve this goal through hard work and personal sacrifice. Let us make 1978 therefore, a year of even greater dedicated service to our king and country. Finally, may I take this opportunity to extend my best wishes to His Majesty, the King, the Indbunkati, and to the entire Swazi people for happy and prosperous new year. Thank you.

After Malamlela arrived, it was said "No, tinkhomo tihambile, titulu kalilungiswe liyobanda cattle have gone, let the litulu<sup>124</sup> [too], bekunene." Lana litulu nembala emvakwefuba be sent to fall for them, bekunene<sup>2</sup>". The Malamlela asabuyisiwe lapha kaNgwane, litulu<sup>124</sup> did fall for them, indeed, after Malamlela bathayinala bakaZulu. Shakake, abengele had been brought back here kaNgwane<sup>56</sup>, Shaka, Kanye, Netridvuna, fakhe, nelibandla lakhe and the Zulu got a lot of food. Shaka would not achitsa bukhosi beMaSwati, ngoba abati together with his hndvuna<sup>126</sup> and <sup>his</sup> council, destroy kutsi ku citsa: bona, kucits'umhlaba wakhe the Swazi kingship, because he knew that destroying them meant destroying his earth.

130 Somntsewu — a name by which Sir Theophilus Shepstone was called by the Swazi people. He was a South African Statesman, born in England in 1817. Well-liked and respected by the Africans, he was contacted by the Swazis for help against marauding Zulus in the 1850's. Shepstone quickly put pressure on Zulu King Mpande and the raids on Mswati's country stopped. [Grot Peter John J., Historical Dictionary of Swaziland, p146]

M.D. akumangalisi sibili. Indzaba yebukhoti, yekuhlabe. It does not surprise, indeed, the matter of bukhoti<sup>119</sup>, ta bukhoti, sikhuluma ngayo kuShaka nje of reviving bukhoti<sup>119</sup>, we are talking about it ngobe sicondzanisa nekutsi lenthosi lekhone, in relation to Shaka because we intend showing inguye Shaka. Solokwentiswa lokwentiswa natuye that the present Inkhosi<sup>7</sup> is [a] Shaka himself. Shaka. Solokunye. Keptake, emakhosi lamanyenti what is being done is what was done to Shaka labentiswa njalo, unгани inkhosi yemlumbi yase, himself; it is still one, but then many emakhosi<sup>7</sup> to kwayawukhatjetwa bukhoti kuyo, Somntsewu, whom this was done, in fact, even the Inkhosi<sup>7</sup> Shepstone. Kwafunyelwa Tifokati, Uffunyelwa of a white person, bukhoti<sup>119</sup> was once nguMswati, kutsi "hambani nimikise nangudzade made with him - Somntsewu<sup>130</sup>, Shepstone, wetfu kuSomntsewu, nitsi Somntsewu asisite, Tifokati was sent by Mswati [11] that "Go and atobise lababaka Zulu bangabi loku basikhupha" deliver this 'sister of mine' [Tifokati] to Somntsewu, and say to Somntsewu, let him help us cool down the Zulu, so that they can stop troubling us".
